The PaCT-2003 (Parallel Computing Technologies) conference was a four-day conference held in Nizhni Novgorod on September 15-19, 2003. This was the 7th international conference of the PaCT series, organized in Russia every odd year. The first conference, PaCT-91, was held in Novosibirsk (Academgorodok), September 7-11, 1991. The next PaCT conferences were held in: Odninsk (near Moscow), 30 August-4 September, 1993; St. Petersburg, September 12-15, 1995; Yaroslavl, September 9-12, 1997; Pushkin (near St. Petersburg), September 6-10, 1999; and Akademgorodok (Novosibirsk), September 3-7, 2001. The PaCT proceedings are published by Springer-Verlag in the LNCS series. PaCT-2003 was jointly organized by the Institute of Computational - thematic and Mathematical Geophysics of the Russian Academy of Sciences (Novosibirsk) and the State University of Nizhni Novgorod. The purpose of the conference was to bring together scientists working with theory, architectures, software, hardware and solutions of large-scale problems in order to provide integrated discussions on Parallel Computing Technologies.

The conference attracted about 100 participants from around the world. Authors from 23 countries submitted 78 papers. Of those submitted, 38 papers were selected for the conference as regular ones; there were also 4 invited papers. In addition, a number of posters were presented. All the papers were internationally

Reviews

This is the finest book I have got study right up until now. I am quite late in start reading this one, but better than never. Once you begin to read the book, it is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding.
