

The Boxer The Goal Keeper: Sartre versus Camus (Hardback)

By Andy Martin

Simon Schuster Ltd, United Kingdom, 2012. Hardback. Book Condition: New. 220 x 140 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book. Jean-Paul Sartre is the author of possibly the most notorious one-liner of twentieth-century philosophy: Hell is other people . Albert Camus was The Outsider. The two men first came together in Occupied Paris in the middle of the Second World War, and quickly became friends, comrades, and mutual admirers. But the intellectual honeymoon was short-lived. In 1943, with Nazis patrolling the streets, Sartre and Camus sat in a cafe on the boulevard Saint-Germain with Simone de Beauvoir and began a discussion about life and love and literature that would finally tear them apart. They ended up on opposite sides in a war of words over just about everything: women, philosophy, politics. Their friendship culminated in a bitter very public feud that was described as the end of a love-affair but which never really finished. Sartre was a boxer and a drug-addict; Camus was a goalkeeper who subscribed to a degree-zero approach to style and ecstasy. Sartre, obsessed with his own ugliness, took up the challenge of accumulating women; Camus, part-Bogart, part-Samurai, was also a self-confessed Don Juan who aspired to chastity. Sartre...

Reviews

This book is definitely worth acquiring. I have gone through and so I am certain that I will likely to read through again again in the future. Its been printed in an exceptionally basic way in fact it is only after I finished reading this publication in which actually altered me, change the way in my opinion.
